THIRTY SECOND YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 15, 1921.

NUMBER 30.

SUNDAY A GREAT DAY AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Dinner Will Be Served

Rev. Hart, Of Danville Invited.

Next Sunday the Annual All-Day Meeting will be held at the Christian Church. The regular services will be conducted in the morning at the usual hours. Shortly after 12 o'clock dinner will be served to all. Then will follow a social period in which everybody is supposed to get better acquainted with every body else. At two o'clock an afternoon service will be conducted, after which the congregation will be dismissed for the day.

Last year a similar meeting was held in December. It proved to be a most happy occasion. This year the occasion ought to be happier in every way. The year now closing has been a very successful one for the congregation; and at this annual meeting provision for next year's activities will be made. Especial pleasure this year will be derived from the presence of the great number of new members, who will be especial guests at this meeting and whom special honor will be done. All of these are urged to be present without fail. The older members want to come to know their better, and to make them realize how happy all are at their coming into the fellowship of the congregation.

All members are asked to bring well filled baskets and to take them to the Sunday School room, where the dinner will be served. This request is all that is necessary in Garrard County to assure an abundance for all who may be present. All members of the Christian Church, whether members of the local congregation or not and all "in-laws" are invited.

Rev. M. A. Hart, who recently closed the revival has been invited to come over for dinner and the afternoon services. It is not known definitely whether he will be able to come or not, but it is hoped that he can, but if he should not be able to attend, there will be special features of the afternoon services. Some of the Juniors and some of the Endeavorers will participate and will add much to the pleasure of all. The presence and hearty co-operation of all members and friends of the congregation are asked in order that the day may be a great one in every way.

A TRIBUTE

To The Women Of The Eastern Star Of Lancaster, Ky.

I was one of a great number who partook of a Goose Supper in Lancaster Lodge No. 104, on the night of the 8th. inst. When I looked down the long line of tables, laden with substantial, wholesomely and elegantly prepared by the delicate hands of the women of the Eastern Star organization, the thought occurred to me (and for the first time however,) whether it would be worth while to live in this world if the ministrations of women were eliminated.

The finite will never be able here to comprehend the Infinite and the mysteries of birth, life and death—none but a Supreme Intelligence could take the gentle sister, so vastly different from the same parent stock as her burly brother, who seems impelled to destroy and she to mend. You will find her wherever needed, seated at the bedside, smoothing the pillow and sponging the brow of the fever-tossed patient—on the battle field among the wounded and the dying, wholly oblivious to the dangers surrounding her.

One should never forget that when He, the Matchless One, was nailed to the cross and all men had forsaken Him and turned away, she was the last to leave and the first at His tomb.

I have felt resentful at times because in the old scriptures, angels were described as men—under the new dispensation they are described as women. This is as it should be, for a tribute to her true worth can never be adequately given to her here.—Anonymous.

Notice.

All delinquent tax payers will be advertised in next week's issue of the Record.

BUYERS TO TAKE POOLED BURLEY

Co-operation Rather Than Bias Manufacturers' Plan

Says James C. Stone Of The Association.

Lexington, Ky.—There will be no trouble in selling the tobacco pledged to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, in the opinion of James C. Stone, chairman of the committee on temporary operations of the association, who returned recently from a trip on which he conferred with the leading manufacturers of the country as to their attitude.

He said that as a result of his visits and talks with the manufacturers he was convinced that there was no reason why the relations between the manufacturers and the representatives of the association should not be mutually satisfactory.

"As chairman and representative of the committee on temporary operations," said Mr. Stone, "I went to see the officials of the principal tobacco manufacturers to learn what their attitudes would be toward the association. I was authorized to say to them that we wanted to co-operate with them, as our best customers, and that the association desired to learn what their attitude toward the co-operative marketing movement was going to be.

"I found generally a very friendly co-operative spirit among the manufacturers. They seemed disposed to co-operate with us fully. I assured them that the association would be conducted on sound business principles and that all the manufacturers would be treated alike by the association. Their position, generally, was that they would buy Burley wherever it might be offered for sale, but that they would not discriminate against the association.

"I am convinced that there will be no trouble at all in selling the tobacco pledged to the association and I believe that the manufacturers will take every pound of tobacco we have and be better satisfied with the system of buying it than the old public auction plan. I did not find an unfriendly spirit anywhere I went and was greatly pleased to find that the manufacturers intend to treat the association just as they would any other holder of tobacco and that there is nowhere any disposition to assume an attitude of resentment against the organized growers. As the manufacturers have their own drying plants, I found that most of them desire to purchase their requirements in winter orders.

"You can say for the association," said Mr. Stone, "that there is no disposition on our part to get at cross-purposes with our best customers and that, so far as I was able to observe and learn through my talks with them, no tendency on their part to do anything other than to give us all the consideration to which we are entitled when the time comes to market our tobacco."

Yea—"Red."

James "Red" Roberts was unanimously elected by the letter men to lead the 1922 Centre Foot Ball Team. "Red," as he is familiarly known throughout the United States and in "Danville" has been picked by many of the leading sport followers of foot ball on the All American Team.

Fixing Streets.

Chief of Police Bratton is busy every day fixing up the streets of the city and also cleaning out the rubbish and dirt that usually fills up the gutter about this time of year.

Several loads of rock have been placed on the streets in the city filling up the holes, and all in all is making a wonderful improvement.

Christmas Play School Auditorium Wednesday Evening, Dec. 21st., 8 O'clock

"The Seven Ages of Giving" is the title of a very beautiful Christmas Play, which will be given at the school Auditorium next Wednesday night, December 21st., under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, of the Lancaster Christian church. The proceeds of this play will go to the educational work among the orphans.

Admission 25 and 50 cents.

ABNER NAMED

Board Of Education

Elect Buena Vista Man School Superintendent.

After a deadlock of several months and what looked to be an unbroken for several months to come, Prof. James K. Abner, who has had charge of the Buena Vista Consolidated schools for several years, was named last Saturday by a majority of the County Board of Education, as County School Superintendent to succeed Miss Jennie Higgins, who has held the office for the past fifteen years.

The election came as quite a surprise, even to some members of the Board, for the impression among a great many was that Mrs. Jesse Guley, who was named to succeed Mr. John Wynn, deceased, would decline to vote in the appointment of a superintendent, but she together with Mrs. Bruner and Oscar Ray, voted for Mr. Abner, thus breaking the deadlock. Mr. Mack Morgan was an aspirant for the office and had warm friends who were interested in his behalf, many of whom feel that he was given a raw deal. Mr. Abner, the superintendent-elect had also a number of warm personal friends, who did some noble work for him and are naturally much elated over his appointment.

Hundreds of warm friends of Miss Higgins will regret to see her give up the office she has filled so acceptably during so many years, but will look back with much pleasure to the work she has given the schools of the county and the progress with which they have grown under her administration. The Record extends congratulations to Mr. Abner and trusts his administration may be equally as successful as his predecessor.

Peter W. Wells Rapidly Recovering.

Mr. Peter W. Wells, who was so roughly handled by a gang of midnight marauders and would be assassinated at the home of a relative in Madison county one night last week, is rapidly recovering at the tubercular hospital in Richmond, and is expected to be out again soon, little the worse for his dreadful experience.

Mr. Wells is a Garrard county man, where he has large farming interests. His mother, Mrs. Sallie A. Wells, resides near Hyattsville, and Mr. Wells when in the county, makes his home with his brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Gastineau.

Mr. Wells is extensively engaged in the real estate business in Arkansas and other southern states, besides having a farm in this county, and one in Madison county. He was until recently in partnership with Messrs. Joe S. Haselton and O. T. Wallace in the real estate business.

Mr. Wells had a very narrow call for his life. He was called from the home of a relative near College Hill in Madison county by three men in a machine, asked to give them water for their radiator, and when he complied with their request was struck over the head with a revolver dragged into the machine, which speeded away; Mr. Wells was searched and when nothing was found, he was thrown from the machine and shot through the neck and left on the roadside for dead. When he was thrown out the machine had reached a point in Fayette county, 14 miles beyond Richmond. He managed to crawl to a nearby store from where his relatives were summoned and he was hastened to the Richmond hospital.

Moves To Town.

The citizens of Lancaster are welcoming to our city Judge and Mrs. Treadway and family, who have moved into the Batson property, on Lexington St. Mr. Treadway was elected County Judge at the last election and will take over the office at the beginning of the new year. We feel very fortunate in having Judge Treadway and his excellent family in our midst.

Big Banquet.

What promises to be one of the biggest banquets of the holiday season will be given by the local post of the American Legion. The Record has just printed the cards that will admit the service men of Lancaster and Garrard County to this so called "Get together Banquet." The local post is growing and quite a number of the service men of this county have already renewed their membership to the post for another year.

WAR REVENUE

TAXES LIFTED

Many Will Be Taken Off The Citizens Tax Burdens Jan. 1st.

The arrogant war tax peony will sink into oblivion after January 1st, and hide itself in a remote corner of the ordinary citizen's pocketbook.

The new Federal tax bill will lift approximately $5,000,000 from the shoulders of Kentuckians, as taxes on sales, transportation, certain items called luxuries, and other manufactured products. Where the ordinary citizen is saved many self-important coppers the manufacturers will be saved a vast sum in dollars. The tax is retroactive for a year in certain provisions, and the involved nature of the new taxation precludes a separation of certain special taxes.

The following amounts will be saved, however, it is estimated, on these items. Transportation, railroad tickets, freight shipments, etc., $4,149,126.

Soft drinks, ice cream, etc., $343,398. Tax on wearing apparel sold in excess of certain amounts, $196,412. Stamp taxes on toilet and medical articles $59,124; pianos, organs and other instruments, $54,279; sporting goods, etc., $62,856; chewing gum, $2,294.

Candy manufacturers paid a 5 per cent tax, amounting to $38,868 last year, but this will be cut to 3 per cent this year.

Taxes on mineral waters, soft drinks and cereal beverages have been repealed, but other taxes have been provided which will be paid by the manufacturer. The tax on free admission and on admissions of 10 cents and under has been taken off.

In addition to the above, taxes have been eliminated on the following articles: Portable electric fans, thermos bottles, articles made of fur, eyeglasses and spectacles and stamp taxes on indemnity and Surety bonds and parcel post packages.

THE DISTRICT

SCHOOL

Given At The School

Auditorium Friday

Night, A Success

The "District School," the home talent play that was given at the School Auditorium on last Friday night was a complete success, and a large crowd was present to see themselves when they attended school in their early school days.

Owing to the large number that was in the show it is impossible for us to mention all of their names, however, they all played their parts well.

About $180.00 was realized from this show which will go to the Armenian Relief Fund for Garrard County.

Miss Ruth Carrier had charge of the show and that is one reason that it was such a success.

Tuberculosis In Garrard County.

Every year for the last five years, twenty-five persons have died here of tuberculosis. During the World War eighteen of our boys lost their lives, eight of these were killed in action or died of wounds. During the same period thousands of dollars were contributed for the comfort and safety of our boys in the service. How much are you going to give this year for the protection of our boys and girls at home?

Tuberculosis is a preventable disease. It is a conservative estimate that we have a hundred and twenty-five cases in the county now, that are a source of danger to those with whom they must mingle. Some of these are asking for hospital care, one young man, hemorrhaging frequently is saying "And no place for me to go?"

We have nearly one thousand malnourished children in this county. It is out of this group that tuberculosis will take its toll of two hundred and fifty in the next ten years.

Every Christmas seal bought is a bullet fired at this deadly disease.

New Fire Hose Arrives.

The new fire hose that the City Fathers recently ordered have arrived and Chief Bratton has already placed them on the fire carts and discarded the old ones.

Lancaster has suffered very destructive fires in her time and now every precaution is taken.

STONE NAMED

As Head of Burley Pool

At Directors Meeting Yesterday

W. H. Shanks Chosen Director From This District.

Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association yesterday elected James C. Stone, of Lexington, president and general manager. Ralph M. Barker, of Carrollton, warehouse manager, and James C. Stone, James N. Kehoe, Bush W. Allen, John H. Winn, of Versailles, and Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, members of the executive committee.

Judge Bingham had previously been elected a director-at-large and the other two directors-at-large will be elected later, one from Ohio and the other from Indiana.

Twenty-one directors were present when the board assembled at the offices of the association, 620 South Broadway. Following a brief informal discussion adjournment was taken by unanimous consent until 2 o'clock. After Robert E. Beatty, of Fayette county; Ralph M. Barker, of Carroll county, and Captain William Collins, of Bourbon county, had been chosen temporary directors-at-large to serve until the regular directors-at-large should be elected. The present directors and the following regularly elected directors were in attendance.

District No. 1, James C. Stone, Lexington; No. 2, Samuel Clay, Paris; No. 3, Clifford L. Walters, Shelbyville; No. 4, James N. Kehoe, Mayaville; No. 5, Frank V. Nunnelley, Georgetown; No. 6, O. C. Ellis, Ripley, Ohio; No. 7, Everett McClure, Aurora, Indiana; No. 8, John H. Wynni Versailles; No. 9, J. R. Gaines, Carrollton; No. 10, H. K. Bourne, New Castle; No. 11, Dawson Chambers, Walton R. E. D. 1; No. 12, Rev. J. R. Jones, Cynthiana; No. 13, Carroll D. Asbury, Augusta; No. 14, Vacant, no election; No. 15, J. H. Souley, Falmingsburg; No. 16, William H. Shanks, Stanford; No. 17, Bush W. Allen, Harrodsburg; No. 18, Judge I. H. Thurman, Springfield; No. 19, Thompson S. Burnam, Richmond; No. 20, E. T. Holloway, Taylorsville; No. 21, J. D. Craddock, Munfordville; No. 22, Robert Pendleton Taylor, Winchester.

Shanks Elected Director

At the election held by members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association at the Court House here last Monday, Messrs. L. G. Davidson, Tandy Center, R. L. Burton and William Scott, were elected delegates to the Stanford convention by substantial majorities.

This convention unanimously elected Mr. W. H. Shanks, of that city as the director to represent this district, composed of the counties of Garrard, Lincoln, Casey and Adair.

Fiscal Court

Raises Salaries Of County Officials.

At the October meeting of the Garrard County Fiscal Court and after some discussion at previous meetings, the salaries of three of the important offices of the county were raised by a unanimous vote of the Court. The treasurer of the county was ordered to pay the following salaries after January, 1922: County Judge $1,500, was $1,100; County Attorney $1,000, was $750; County Court Clerk, $600, was $400.

Broom Factory

In Lancaster.

Mr. Manuel Turpin & Sons, who have recently moved into the "Camp Taylor" edition of this City have started a broom factory and are now busily engaged making the article that keeps the home and office clean. Mr. Turpin says that their output is about fifty brooms per day.

The citizens of Garrard should in the future when ordering a broom demand that they get the one that is made in Garrard County.

Weekly Meetings

The Directors of the Lancaster and Garrard County Chamber of Commerce since they have moved into their new headquarters over the Puritan, are holding weekly meetings, the time being Monday night, at 7:00 P. M.

All members of the C. of C. are cordially invited to be present at all meetings as well as anyone who wishes to come before the directors to discuss anything that is of interest to Lancaster and Garrard County citizens.

RED CROSS

XMAS SEALS

Organizations From Each Of The Local Churches

To Manage Sale Of Seals This Year.

Following the custom of the past several years the National Red Cross has issued the well known Xmas Seal and is urging the sale of this stamp in larger quantities than ever before. The proceeds of these sales go to help support the splendid work this organization is doing in reclaiming physical and moral wrecks throughout our land today.

The Young People's organizations from the local churches will have charge of the sale of these stamps, and you will render both a favor and a great service to your church and to this noble work by a liberal response to this call.

BUY RED CROSS SEALS FOR ALL YOUR XMAS PACKAGES!

A call meeting of the Masonic Lodge No. 104, for Thursday night, December 15th., is very important, and all members are urged to be present.

Just How The People

Of Lancaster Can

Hasten The Establishment Of Free

Delivery In The City.

The Record has gone to some trouble to ascertain just what is delaying the establishment of free mail delivery within the city limits and the following is the result of that investigation:

It is considerable expense to the government to institute and maintain free mail delivery, and it does not and will not assume this expense until it is fully satisfied that a very large per cent of the citizens of the community desire such service.

The proper way to inform the government of such desire upon our part is to make the proper arrangements to receive such service, i. e. have your house numbered and put up a proper receptacle for the care of the mail. As soon as this is done the local postmaster will apprise the post-office department and the proper steps will be taken to establish the service.

The boxes have been going up very slowly, and until a much larger number than are already erected are placed in a position it would be inadvisable for the matter to be taken up, as the government does not desire to establish such service until it is apprised that a large percent of our people desire it.

YOU MUST ERCT A BOX BEFORE YOU CAN RECEIVE YOUR MAIL BY CARRIER.

An article appearing in a recent issue of the Record would lead one to infer that it was not necessary to erect a box in order to receive your mail by carrier, such is not the case, you must put up a box before you can receive your mail as is clearly shown by the following extract from a ruling of the Fourth Ass't. Postmaster General:

"XXX any person recently taken into the city delivery service should not be favored with house to house delivery of their mail unless they properly number their homes and erect suitable private mail receptacles."

Postmaster Brown is ready and anxious to do everything in his power to assist in the establishment of this service, but he can do nothing without the co-operation of the public in putting up boxes.

Clean Up Day

In Lancaster.

Mr. Stone W. Norman, of Richmond, who is connected with the American Red Cross of that city was in Lancaster on last Saturday where he filled out the claims for all of Garrard County's disabled service men.

Mr. Norman was brought here under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

You are most cordially invited to attend the Mid-winter Piano Recital of the Lancaster Graded High School at the Auditorium Saturday, Dec. 17th., at two o'clock.

LIVE STOCK NEWS

DISTRIBUTE 130 PURE BULLS

Animals intended for Breeding Purposes in Different Communities in Kentucky.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The first of the "better-sires" sales held in Kentucky this year resulted in the sale of 130 purebred bulls. These animals are being distributed through the state and will be used for breeding purposes. In describing the sale, Wayland Rhoads of the extension division, University of Kentucky, states in a letter to the United States Department of Agriculture that "much improvement will come from it."

Type of Bull Used to Build Up Herds in Kentucky.

Notwithstanding the present excellence of much of the live stock in the state, Kentucky farmers are welcoming the opportunity to obtain, at reasonable prices, purebred sires of superior type. Additional sales are to be held.

VERY FEW REAL RUNTS BORN

Underfed and Unthrifty Animals Are Generally Result of Inadequate Food and Care.

Emphasizing that runty live stock are generally the result of inadequate feed, housing and care, the editor of a farm paper in the Central West adds to the experiences which nearly 1,000 farmers have already reported to the United States Department of Agriculture on the subject of runt prevention.

"There are very few real runts born," he declares. "They may be a little underfed, perhaps a trifle weaker and sometimes of inferior constitution, brought on by improper breeding systems. But poor housing, limited range, getting rooted away and cheated by the larger and huskier of the litter—these are the agencies by which most so-called runts are formed. Given proper care and food until they get a start, the runts will prove money-makers."

These comments agree closely with the opinions of others who contributed their experiences in the matter to the department. Particular care needs to be given live stock at weaning time, since this is the time when the dams fail to give the nourishment required by the growing animal and when the young stock is learning to eat other feed.

WAY OF RAISING MULE COLTS

Best Plan is to Put Them on Food After Weaning and Never Retard Best Growth.

The older way of raising mules was to turn them out at weaning time and practically let them rough it until three years old, then get them up, wild as deer, for a shearing and then either span them out to break or put them in the pen for fattening as unbroken stuff. Nowadays the mule colt is put on feed almost before weaning and is never allowed to stop his growing until he is ready for the harness, which time is reached a year sooner by the new method than by the old. The mule at two is a good work animal, but care must be taken not to overdo him at that age, and it is best not to put a two-year-old in as a "regular" until he is well accustomed to the work, better still, don't crowd the youngster until he is three, when he will have attained quite a bit of that strength and grit that makes him the merest of the working world.

FEEDING NEW CORN TO HOGS

Give Few Stalks Just as Plants Reach an Advanced Milk Stage, Gradually Increasing Amount.

A good way to accustom hogs to the new corn is to cut a few stalks of corn and throw it over the fence to the hogs just as it reaches the advanced milk stage, gradually increasing the amount until in 10 or 12 days, when the corn is well denting, the hogs are getting a full feed. Even then, it is necessary to watch them closely to see that none get off feed because of digestive trouble.

SILLO PAYS LARGE DIVIDENDS

Stands as Sentinel to Successful Cropping and Efficient Feeding—More Are Needed.

The silo has been the difference between success and failure on many farms where cows, beef cattle or sheep are kept. The silo stands as a sentinel to successful cropping and efficient feeding. It should be a monument to thrift and progressive husbandry on every farm. Why not enclose your corn and carry your cattle or sheep through the winter economically?

GUARD AGAINST HOG CHOLERA

Dread Disease Most Likely to Appear in Herds During Months of October and November.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

October and November are the months when the dread disease, hog cholera, is most likely to appear. During these months and until snow covers the ground swine raisers are urged by the United States Department of Agriculture to be especially observing when feeding hogs in the morning. Any animals in the herd which fail to come to their feed, and particularly those having arched backs and rough coats, should be removed promptly from the rest of the herd.

In some cases hogs sick with cholera die within a few days. In others the disease may assume a chronic form and linger for several weeks. If cholera is suspected swine growers should immediately call a competent veterinarian to make a proper diagnosis and to apply the preventive serum treatment if they are found to be affected with cholera. A post-mortem examination of swine that have died from cholera generally will show one or more of the following symptoms: Purple blotches on the skin, blood-colored spots on the surfaces of the lungs and heart, on the kidneys, and on both the outer surface and inner linings of the intestine, stomach, and bladder; reddening of lymphatic glands; enlargement of the spleen; in acute cases, an ulceration of the inner lining of the large intestine.

In the lingering or chronic cases of hog cholera it is usual to find intestinal buttonlike ulcers on the intestines.

WORK HORSES REQUIRE CARE

Animals That Have Had Their Teeth Looked After Are Usually Most Efficient.

Horses working in the fields not only require good care and food but they will eat better.

Horses that have had their teeth looked after are usually more efficient workers than those which have not, especially horses with some age. Horses with poor teeth cannot digest their feed efficiently. A little time spent in rasping the teeth down level is often well spent.

MINERAL MIXTURE FOR HOGS

Animals Crave Something in Addition to Feeds Given Them to Meet Growth Requirements.

Hogs need certain minerals to meet their growth requirements. One such mixture that has proved satisfactory is composed of: Chlorine, 50 pounds; wood ashes, 50; gypsum sulfate, 10 pounds. Partly burned coke and soft coal are good. It is well to keep a mineral mixture before the hogs all the time.

HOGS ARE HARVEST HELPERS

In Most Cases It Will Pay to Let Them Take Care of Part of Small Grain Crops.

Hogs can be of great assistance in harvesting small grain crops. In most cases when hogs are a paying proposition at all it will be found profitable to let them take care of part of the crops in this way, whether labor is scarce or not.

DISPOSING OF DEAD ANIMALS

All Carcasses Should Be Buried or Covered With Quicklime and Buried Quite Deeply.

Burn to ashes or cover with quicklime and bury under four feet of earth all dead animals at butchering time, because they attract buzzards, dogs, etc., which may carry hog-cholera infection.

WHEN NERVES ARE UNSTRUNG

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Builds Up Vigor And Strength.

There are times when men and women cannot help losing strength. They try to do too much or they lose sleep or do not eat enough food that nourishes. Blood becomes sluggish because poisons clog it. Faces grow pale and pasty looking. It is not long before nerves get unstrung. The best way to start a change for the better is to take a course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It builds the blood. The weakness from a lack of red cells in the blood is overcome. Gude's Pepto-Mangan sends a fresh supply of red cells streaming through the blood. Good blood, pure and free from poisons, starts building vigor and strength. Sleep is better, appetite keener, so that the body becomes properly nourished. Druggists have Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package. Advertisement.

Community In Washington Outlines Farm Work Plan.

By means of a community program of work which they have just completed in co-operation with County Agent R. M. Heath, farmers in the Pleasant Grove community of Washington county have started a unified effort to improve agricultural conditions in that district. Corn, wheat, cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry will be given special attention in the program. It was designed by determining the factors which limit the profit from these phases of farming and then outlining methods whereby the limitations could be removed. Demonstrations to be conducted by different farmers and the better feeding and care of livestock are to have an important place in carrying out the purposes of the program.

CHOLERA TAKES LARGE TOLL

Losses Have Been Greatly Reduced and May Be Wiped Out Entirely By Right Treatment.

August and September take the heaviest toll through hog cholera, the bane of swine keepers, which in years past has wiped out entire herds after an expensive season's feeding. In certain years the hog cholera toll has run as high as 144 per 1,000 through the United States. Preventive measures developed by the United States Department of Agriculture have reduced the toll to 34. The experts, whose work has effected this annual multi-million-dollar saving, assert confidently that the means of absolute insurance from hog cholera losses is within the reach of any farmer who cares to take the precautionary trouble and expense.

The serum treatment, developed about 15 years ago and first put into general use within the last six or seven years, gives immunity if injected in time. This serum treatment is described fully in Farmers' Bulletin 834, which should be kept at hand for ready reference by every hog raiser.

Hog cholera is an epidemic disease; that means that it spreads from one or a few initial cases. It is carried in bedding, sty refuse, feeding troughs, loading chutes, railroad cars, farm implements, clothing of laborers, and even in running water. Sanitation will cut down the danger, but it is not an absolute preventive. Unless the farmer has taken the precaution to have all of his herd immunized with serum and virus, an operation which should be done by a veterinarian or a specially trained layman, there is always possibility of the disease breaking out unexpectedly.

The farmer's protection lies in the fact that usually only one or two members of the herd are affected at first, and he should be on the watch. One or two hogs will refuse to come up to feed with the herd. They will remain hidden in the nest, and when driven from the nest their backs may be arched and they may appear cold, and shiver. The rest of the herd may remain apparently well for several days, when others are likely to be found affected in about the same way as those first attacked. As the disease progresses the sick hogs become gaunt or tucked up in the flanks, and have a weak, staggering gait, the weakness being most marked in the hind legs.

If the lungs are affected there may be a cough, which is particularly noticeable when the hogs are disturbed. The eyes usually are inflamed and show a whitish discharge, which may cause the lids to stick together. Constipation, which is commonly present in the early days of the disease, is generally followed by a diarrhoea. As the disease reaches its height red or purplish blotches are likely to appear upon the skin of the ears, of the belly, and the inner surfaces of the legs.

Some of the symptoms mentioned may be present in other diseases, but the owner should remember that cholera spreads rapidly through a herd and no time should be lost in calling a veterinarian to diagnose the disease and administer the proper treatment. If the disease is cholera heavy losses can be averted only by prompt administration of hog cholera serum.

Autopsy should be performed upon hogs which die of any disease. Indications of cholera are described in the bulletin referred to. The most important thing is to be prepared and to act promptly.

Locate hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways, and do not allow hogs to run on free range or highways, nor to have access to canals or irrigated ditches.

Do not drive into hog lots after driving on public highways.

Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements.

In talk, as in other things, we must wait let quality prevail over quantity.
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Real Length of Day.
How long is a day? Twenty-four hours, you say. Yes, but not quite. One real day contains 23 hours, 56 minutes and 4.090 seconds of time, as reckoned by the movement of the sun. The earth moves through space with an average velocity of eighteen and one-half miles per second, and its velocity of rotation at the equator is about 1,000 miles per hour.

Dante's Beautiful Imagery.
Dante believed that when Lucifer was cast out from heaven he made a deep pit as he fell in one side of the Earth (the pit of Hell, or the Inferno), and on the other side a corresponding projection, the Hill of Purgatory. The poet's description of his arrival at the foot of this hill, after his long sojourn in the dark regions of Hell, is one of the most beautiful things in literature.

Not Likely.
Ulrich had come to inform me, writes a Labrador Mission worker in Le Petit Nord, that he could not "cleave the splits," for his "stomach had exploded." I felt it incumbent on me to administer castor oil, thinking that that might be sufficient punishment for what I had reason to believe was only a ruse to escape work. It was hard for me to give the oil, but harder still to have the boy look up afterwards with a cherubic smile and ask if it were the same oil that his mother gave the widow woman!—Youth's Companion.

The Thermos Bottle.
A thermos bottle is a double-walled receptacle. The air in the space between the walls is completely exhausted and the walls are silvered like a mirror so as to reflect radiation. This guards against the access of heat or cold from without.

The Incentive.
To be ambitious of true honor, of the true glory and perfection of our nature, is the very incentive of virtue; but to be ambitious of titles, of place, of ceremonial respects and civil pageantry, is as vain and little as the things are which we court.—Sir Philip Sidney.

Immense Power of Lightning.
Near New York city a huge oak on a hillside was torn into splinters by a bolt of lightning and some electrical engineering experts have been studying the size of the tree, the resistance it gave and the volume of electrical force to be required for its destruction. They agree there was not less than 100,000-horse power in the bolt that hit it.

Youthful Author of Famous Hymn.
The hymn, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," was written by one of the most interesting and eccentric figures of early Methodism, Robert Robinson. Robinson, a London hair-dresser's apprentice, early fell under the influence of the mighty Whitefield; became converted at twenty, and is credited with being the author of "Come, Thou Fount," at twenty-two.

Sensed Something Wrong.
Little Miss Polly, age seven, came over to see us one evening and requested that we play the record on the phonograph, which was "Even Thou Bravest," from Faust, sung by Reinhold Werrenrath. She listened for a few minutes and then said, "That's a religious piece, isn't it?" On being told that it was a grand opera selection, she remarked, "My goodness, that's terribly quiet for grand opera."

As The Editor Sees It.

What's everybody thinking about? War!
What's everybody talking about? War!
What are the well known newspaper writers all predicting? Another war!
What does Washington see in the handwriting on the wall? More war!
And there you have it—war, war, war, nothing but the possibility of another war.
Occasionally some dreamer awakes from a long sleep and lets out a few chirps about the glories of peace—beautiful peace.
But there is no peace, at least no enduring peace. Even in Washington they are scrapping and angling for position and possible alliances in the next war.

Their honeyed words and smooth palaver fool no one—least of all themselves. They have more sense than to swallow their own bunk.

The truth is, the leaders in the Washington conference didn't come here in the right spirit and without that spirit nothing of permanent value can be accomplished.

You can't keep a famishing dog from snapping at a juicy bone—and the nations of the old world are mighty hungry and any old kind of a bone looks good to them.

May the Lord preserve us from the evils of another war, but the Lord does not always answer prayers of either the righteous or the wicked.

We are in the hands of the gods, and the gods have yet to speak.

Many people believe that Fatty Arbuckle should at least have been sent to prison for a long term. Others are emphatic in their contention that he was entitled to acquittal—that Virginia Rappe should have had more sense than to take part in a drunken debauch such as Arbuckle was in the habit of pulling off.

Fatty is paying the piper in suspense and money.

Virginia paid with her life. The girl gets the worse of it every time.

A saloon keeper and one of his helpers were murdered in Chicago a few days ago for no greater reason than a chair had been removed from one table to another. The murderer was drunk on moonshine that had been flowing freely in the saloon.

In the room at the time, or within a few minutes of the shooting, were two judges, an assistant states attorney, and big politicians and labor leaders galore. The saloon is within a few feet of the city hall.

The murder was an incident. They occur every day.

Selling moonshine in open violation of the prohibition law was also but an incident. It is being done every hour of the day and night.

The presence of judges and other officials in a den where liquor is openly sold may also be only an incident.

Possibly, also, when they swore to uphold and enforce the laws of this country they considered their solemn oaths merely in the light of incidents.

If we may be allowed to coin a Latin phrase of our own, it would seem that this country is suffering from an epidemic of paralytic incidents.

A city paper the other day quoted live chickens at 14 cents a pound wholesale. In the meat markets the same chickens, minus the feathers, were retailing for 40 cents a pound.

Thus a six pound fowl retailing for $2.40 would yield the farmer who raised it and hauled it to market only 84 cents.

Who gets the $1.56?

A Hundred Million Goats.

When Mr. Wilson was president the administration took the attitude that the present generation should pay all of the huge indebtedness incurred as a result of our entry into the world war.

Under Mr. Harding's administration it is proposed that these debts be liquidated within a period of twenty-five years.

In addition the allies owe us about eleven billions of dollars which we may never see again.

The eleven billions must necessarily come from the pockets of the present generation, as it has already vanished.

But why this frantic haste to liquidate our own debt?

Why the insistent attempt to saddle the whole burden upon those who have done the suffering?

Why make this generation both suffer and pay while the next generation will have nothing to do but reap the benefits?

America did not enter the war from choice, or through any benevolent or chivalrous desire to aid England or France when their backs were to the wall in a losing fight.

The government and congress knew without American aid for the allies Germany would win, and that the next step to a victorious Teutonic army would be to overrun this country or to drive our ships and commerce from the seas.

These are the facts in a few words.

It is therefore plain to anyone of normal intelligence that we fought not only for ourselves, but for the benefit and preservation of generations of Americans yet to come.

Why, then, should we of today assume all of the burdens?

Why should future generations reap the benefits without any of the hardships?

Why not extend this liquidation over a period of fifty or a hundred years, and lighten to some extent the burdens of taxation that are pressing so heavily upon the people of today?

Why make slaves of the people of this generation in order that those of the next may live in greater affluence?

Why make a hundred million people of today the royal goats for those of tomorrow?

Keep Up Your Nerve.

No matter what the unfavorable business conditions that prevail in the larger centers of population, there is no reason why we should react unduly to them in this community.

We are self sustaining in every essential way.

Our farming territory is capable of producing all of the food that we desire or can consume, and there is a ready market for the surplus, even if the price is not what could be desired.

Even if a Chinese wall were suddenly thrown around this country, and all the communication with the outside world were cut off, there would still be something for each of us to do.

True, we might be deprived of some of the luxuries of life, but we could exist very comfortably for a time—and it is only a question of time when this stagnation in business will pass away.

We can readily exchange the surplus that is produced in this community for the necessities that we do not produce.

We have no thousands to be thrown out of employment and become a burden upon the rest of the people.

We have no heavy expenditures which a reduced income will fail to meet.

In fact, we have very little of which to complain.

We can not expect the goose to lay a golden egg every day. We must expect a little adversity in order that we may more fully enjoy and be thankful for the prosperity that comes to us.

Keep a stiff upper lip. There is no occasion for the occasion to sag.

Falling Down

Much as we regret it, there is a feeling of pessimism creeping over us relative to the final outcome of the Washington arms conference. It is not measuring up to expectations.

The leading delegates are somber in public and are profuse with high sounding phrases which mean little or nothing. These are thrown out for the benefit of the public.

In the committee rooms, behind closed doors, however, it has been a different story, and that story is anything but to the liking of the people who bear the heaviest burdens of war.

The president called the conference for the avowed purpose of placing a distinct limitation upon armaments, that limitation to be worked out in such a manner that it would be fair and just to all nations concerned.

But each day it has become more and more apparent that such is not the prime object of at least some of the delegates from abroad. Instead, we are forced to the suspicion that the thought uppermost in the minds of some of them is a selfish one. The old game of secret diplomacy is at work, with each nation for position and endeavoring to put something over on some other country.

Intense bitterness has cropped out between the delegates from abroad, and heated words are said to have been passed in the committee rooms.

There appears to be no singleness of purpose—no willingness to give and take—only a desire to take without giving.

Such a spirit will not achieve the results the world desires

The conference is falling down.

Cultivating Immodesty

It is difficult to pick up a large city newspaper or illustrated magazine without seeing a picture of some woman or young girl making a vulgar display of her legs.

Short skirts are sanitary, easy to walk in, and should be encouraged. They are a distinct improvement over the trailing ones that swept up the filth of the streets a few years ago.

But the women of the big cities—or many of them—do not stop at "short skirts." In fact, the limit of exposure seems to be rapidly disappearing, as are also those fine feminine instincts we have been taught to revere in womanhood.

A picture in a daily paper which recently attracted masculine attention portrayed two young women, blindfolded, seated on a table and in the act of drawing lucky numbers from a bowl, in a contest the paper was conducting.

Modestly gowned? Not at all.

Short skirts? Worse.

No skirts at all!

Fortunately this mania for indecent exposure has not hit the country towns very hard.

We hope it never does.

Instructive Lecture.

The lectures and entertainments given by Lewis N. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. L. Roemele Thompson during the past week have created unusual interest owing to their entertaining character as well as being uplifting and instructive. This entertainment was given at Mt. Hebron last week to a good audience and will be repeated at Paint Lick School Building tomorrow night and again next Wednesday night, December 21st, at Bee Academy, near Marksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are highly entertaining, both being members of the Drama League of America, and during the evening present four first class one-act plays, three of which are very humorous and laugh provoking.

Necklace Of Empress Lost For Years Found

An amazing story of a lost necklace is being told in New York. An American woman, while traveling in China several years ago, purchased for the equivalent of two dollars, a worn-looking necklace of green beads which attracted her because of the oddness of its clasp. When she returned to America, leading jewelers offered her first five thousand and finally twenty thousand dollars in exchange for it. The following amazing reason for its great value was advanced:

The necklace, which proved to be of genuine jade, was the original necklace presented by Napoleon to Josephine on their bridal day. The odd clasp bore the initials of both in diamond chips. It has been sought for years.

Jade has ever been associated with romance and ever fails to impart an alluring Oriental air to the woman who wears it.

Madison A. Hart, of Danville, assisted by Miss Katherine Warriner, of Hustonville, during a two-weeks meeting added to the church at Lancaster eighty members, fifty coming by confession. Brother Hart says: "It was one of the best meetings I have been in for a long time. The singing of Miss Warriner was fine, indeed. Hourland is one of the most capable men and one of the finest men in our Kentucky ministry."—The Weekly Bulletin, Louisville, Ky.

Wesley Brown Dickerson of the firm J. E. Dickerson & Son, Lancaster, Ky., has just returned from a two weeks hunt to Mississippi. He said he had some wonderful times. He said birds are thick when the farm hands go out to the fields to work they have to raise them out of the way with a hayrake. Some of the boys said he meant English Sparrows and not quail. And fishing, all you got to do is to get a gig and go to any mud puddle and stick it down and you pull up a fish from five to twenty pounds—one fish down there is so large there is not enough water in the lake to cover his back and the natives are afraid to tackle it—Possum hunting is another sport with them. He said they went out one night and got twenty possums and ten coons and it was not a good night for hunting either. Can you beat it? Who's next.—Lexington Herald.

Grow-Scott.

Miss Stella Mae Grow, attractive and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Grow and Mr. A. T. Scott, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Scott, of Lancaster, were united in marriage last Friday afternoon at Nicholasville, Rev. J. J. Martin of that place officiating.

The marriage of this popular couple was a surprise to their many friends and relatives. She has had a position in the Bank of Bryn Mawr for the past year and is now Assistant Cashier while Mr. Scott is a successful and energetic young farmer and is to be congratulated on winning the hand of this charming young lady.

Their many friends and relatives wish them a long and happy life as they embark upon the matrimonial sea, and trust their married life may be a happy and useful one.

Red Cross Xmas Seals

These small, attractive stamp-like Christmas "stickers" have come again to remind each man, woman and child of his or her personal responsibility to rid our own beloved State from the dread disease of Tuberculosis—the most common and fatal of any in the State. Every community in constant danger of this disease as it is scattered by the unfortunates having it. Even in Garrard County at present, there are aching hearts because of loved ones now in Tuberculosis Sanatoriums of the Southwestern states. Only constant care to keep away this dread disease is the answer to the situation. Cure is uncertain when once it is contracted.

The working of our State Anti-Tuberculosis Committee is too well known to be repeated here. Yet the appeal is made for everyone to assist in this work by purchasing these "stickers" from the girls and boys, who are so willingly offering them for sale. Garrard County is already reaping benefits, from this fund, in treatment to some of her unfortunate citizens, who otherwise would not be able to get suitable treatment, and who would otherwise remain a menace to their neighbors.

This appeal is a personal thing. You remember the "Ancient Mariner" with the ladies of his misdeeds around him, each one cursing him with his eye.

Let us purchase freely of these "stickers"—Our Christmas packages will be ornamented by them and our duty will be fulfilled most truly.

An Ideal Christmas Present.

Now as the yule tide season is rapidly coming on us, we like hundreds of others are wondering these long nights just what are we going to give some of our good friends as a small remembrance of some of their many kind favors rendered us during the year that is just about to close. Of course we all would like to give costly presents, but, that we find is impossible, so again we think of something that we would like to give and that is too cheap, as a suggestion may we not offer the following: Call the the Business Mgr. of the Central Record and have him send a year's subscription to one of your friends as a remembrance from you. Give us the name and address and we will take pleasure in sending The Central Record to your friend together with a letter.

The price of The Central Record is only $1.50 per year and serves as a Christmas present fifty-two times each year.

Henderson Demonstration Shows Value Of Nitrate

By means of an orchard fertilizing demonstration, which he conducted in co-operation with the College of Agriculture, and County Agent D. W. Martin, W. F. Agnew, a Henderson county farmer has been able to bring out some striking points as regards orchard management, according to a report of the project. Chief among the results accomplished were those showing the value of a mulch to conserve moisture during a summer of little rainfall and the value of nitrate of soda in encouraging a thrifty tree growth.

Four trees in one plot of the demonstration, which received a straw mulch of 60 pounds each, showed considerable more leaf and twig growth than did those trees which received no treatment, according to the report of the work. This is regarded as striking evidence to show the advantage of a straw in conserving moisture during a dry summer.

In two other plots, trees which were given a treatment including nitrate of soda, made the greatest growth of any in the demonstration and in addition produced leaves which were larger and darker than those of the other plots. These leaves were late in dropping because of their thriftiness and also were green and growing when the leaves on other trees had dropped. It also appeared as if the apples on the nitrated trees were larger and that more of them were set than was the case on trees which did not receive nitrate. Trees in one plot received a straw mulch in addition to the nitrate of soda while those in the other were treated with five pounds of acid phosphate and the straw mulch in addition to the nitrate. No conclusive results could be derived in regard to the value of acid phosphate this year, according to the report of the demonstration.

COMMON AILMENTS OF SHEEP

Information Given in Farmer's Bulletin to Enable Owners to Recognize Symptoms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

How to recognize and treat the more important diseases and common ailments of sheep is told in Farmer's Bulletin 1155, just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

A Sheep Parasite—Back View of Female Sucking Body Louse (Highly Enlarged.)

While the actual treatment of disease is primarily a matter for veterinarians, the information given in the new bulletin will enable sheep owners to recognize symptoms early in their development and thus avoid losses to their flocks. Altogether 57 kinds of diseases and ailments are discussed.

The sheep industry of the country has suffered severely from the ravages of infectious and noninfectious diseases. In addition to the scientific names, the bulletin gives the common names by which the various diseases are known. A convenient arrangement of cause, symptoms, post mortem appearance, diagnosis, treatment, and prevention makes it possible for sheep owners to obtain a practical knowledge of the best means for preventing and controlling sickness in the flocks. Numerous illustrations add to the clearness of the discussion.

As a companion bulletin to "Diseases of Sheep," the department is distributing also Farmer's Bulletin 1156, en-itled "Parasites and Parasitic Diseases of Sheep." This bulletin explains methods for controlling various pests and parasites that attack sheep and points out the advantages of pasture rotation, feeding from racks, and other measures of value in parasite control.

LIQUID MANURE IS VALUABLE

Nitrogen and Potassium Should Be Carefully Preserved and Used for Improving Crops.

The liquid excrement from farm animals contains nearly half the nitrogen and potassium yielded by them and should be carefully preserved. When steers are fed on cement floors the value of the manure produced is more than $4 per year greater for each animal than when fed on earth floors. Open barnyard manure is about one-half as valuable as stall manure. The least amount of nitrogen will be lost from stored manure if animals are kept on it or it is kept in a moist, well packed condition. Manure used in connection with continuous croppings will not maintain the maximum yield, but when used in connection with crop rotation it increases the yield of all crops grown in that rotation. Manure used in conjunction with a complete fertilizer high in phosphorus will give better returns than when either is used alone.

NEEDS OF GROWING ANIMALS

Pigs Thrive Better on Ear Corn and Green Alfalfa Than on Chopped and Ground Feeds.

Ear corn and green alfalfa meet the needs of growing pigs better, and at less cost, than chopped alfalfa and ground cob and cornmeal. The alfalfa stems and cob meal are better suited to the needs of sheep or cattle. They can handle more fibrous, indigestible matter than pigs.

DISCARD INEFFICIENT HORSE

Indiscriminate Breeding of Small, Unsound, Scrubby Animals Highly Unprofitable.

The light, inefficient horse is undoubtedly destined to be discarded as a factor in American husbandry, and the indiscriminate breeding of small, unsound, scrubby animals will continue to be highly unprofitable if persisted in.

VINEGAR USEFUL IN VEGETABLE CANNING

Time of Processing May Be Somewhat Reduced.

Two Years of Experimental Work on Subject Made by Home Economics Kitchen—Much Corn Reported Spoiled Last Year.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A little vinegar added to beans, corn, peas, asparagus, or spinach when canned by the water-bath method, will add materially to the reduction of loss by spoilage. Moreover, the time of processing these vegetables may be somewhat reduced when a sufficient amount of acid is used, the home economics kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture reports after two years of experimental work on the subject.

In certain sections of the country in 1919 and 1920 canned sweet corn did not keep well, whether processed continuously or intermittently. In the home economics kitchen quart cans of corn processed for less than six hours continuously spoiled, while others canned at the same time, with the addition of four tablespoons of vinegar to one quart, did not spoil either year, although given only two hours processing. If only three tablespoons of vinegar are used, process four hours; two or three tablespoons of lemon juice to a quart have equally good results when processed three hours. Corn should always be boiling hot when packed into the jar.

With asparagus and string beans the addition of two tablespoons of the acid proved equally effective in reducing spoilage. Vinegar or lemon juice in the small amounts used modifies to some degree the natural flavor of the vegetable, but the acid taste is not objectionable to most persons. Moreover, much of the acid taste can be washed off before the vegetables are served. Experiments with vinegar and other acids in canning vegetables will be continued in the kitchen next year.

FRESH FRUIT IS EXCELLENT

It Supplies Some Sugar and the Important Mineral Matters, Mild Acids and Vitamins.

Fruit is food. It supplies some sugar and the important mineral matters, mild fruit acids, and vitamins, say experts in the United States Department of Agriculture, office of home economics. These food substances help to keep the body in good health and to prevent constipation.

Use fresh fruit whenever possible and can the surplus. Apples, pears, plums, peaches, cherries, oranges, grapefruit, grapes, bananas, avocados, berries—the list is very long. Some where in the United States some of them are always in season, and some are in market everywhere much of the time.

Use dried fruits, either home dried or those on sale almost everywhere. Soak prunes, dried apples, dried apricots in water overnight and cook them long enough to make them tender.

Use dates, figs, or raisins. These are very good added to breakfast cereal 10 minutes before taking it from the stove.

Laundry bags of Turkish toweling are excellent.

Bananas should be thoroughly ripe, eaten slowly and well chewed.

No cake should be moved in the oven until it has risen its full height.

An old mackintosh can be turned into a most useful apron for washing days.

Farm Manure Valuable As Active Fertilizer

The fact that almost one-half of the large amount of plant food which it contains is readily available and can be used at once by young plants makes farm manure one of the most effective fertilizers which farmers can use, soils specialists say. About one-half the nitrogen, one-sixth of the phosphorus and one-half of the potash in manure is soluble or in a condition which will permit it to be used at once by growing crops. This quality makes farm manure an excellent top dressing for such crops as wheat, young clover or grass. The remainder of the plant food becomes available gradually, thus making the material a highly valuable source of plant food.

"In contrast to manure, straw and stover are slow fertilizers partly because they are of woody nature," George Roberts, head of the agronomy department of the College of Agriculture said. "In actual plant food, however, straw, together with the various crop residues, is as rich and sometimes even richer than average stable manure. The chief difference between manure and residue is the fact that the latter give up their fertility more slowly when turned back to the soil."

"A part of the difficulty in making these slow fertilizers active is overcome by using them as bedding. When used in this manner, the coarse material is broken up mechanically, mixed with the solid manure and saturated with liquid manure in which the plant food is readily available. Animal manure also contains a large amount of bacteria which act upon the straw and coarse material to make the plant food more readily available."

Henderson Flock Shows Results Of Proper Care.

Many farmers in Henderson county, as well as some in surrounding counties, are finding that proper feeding, housing and management of the farm poultry flock pays as a result of the egg production received by Tom Wilson, a Henderson county farmer who is co-operating with the extension division of the College of Agriculture and County Agent D. W. Martin in conducting a demonstration with his flock of White Wyandottes.

Figures show that each hen in the flock has produced an average of 167 eggs during the 11 months of the second year in which the flock has been a demonstrational one. Last year the flock averaged 174 eggs a bird and this year it appears that each hen will produce more than 188 eggs, according to County Agent Martin. The flock has been fed and managed according to suggestions made for the average farm poultry flock.

Beware of the stranger who effusively offers you his hand. He wants you to put something in it.

No matter what the final outcome, that Washington conference will not have been entirely in vain. It came along just in time to alternate with Fatty Arbuckle in the news reports.

Manse High

School Notes.

The following pupils were on the honor roll of Manse High School for September, October and November, having made an average grade of 90 per cent or over: Hettie Heister, Herbert Tudor, William Tudor, Blanche Bowling, Gladys Tudor, Hurdetta Ramsey, Vernella Gooch, M. Nelson Ramsey, Lula Spilman, Ivan Vanwinkle. For October, Horia Howling, and Laverne Chandler.

The teachers of Manse School wish to thank the patrons and friends of the school for their hearty co-operation with the Parent-Teachers' Association in its work this fall. This organization has been right on the job with the school and everything that they have undertaken has been a success. Without it the teachers would have been greatly handicapped. All needed play ground equipment, much school equipment and repair work has been furnished and at present all is paid for. This organization has adjourned to meet again in March, at which time it will take up school improvement in general.

A Christmas play, entitled, "The Coming of the Prince of Peace," will be given on Thursday night before Christmas by the Manse school, at the Presbyterian church. All are invited to attend.

A Christmas tree will be given at the Manse Presbyterian church on Christmas eve.

Yellow Fever Wiped Out.

Yellow fever has been completely eliminated from Guayaquil, Ecuador, where it has been prevalent for generations. In 1942 half the population of the city died of this disease, and there were from 200 to 500 cases every year until the campaign of extermination was begun in 1918.

Hardly Realistic.

Ellen Terry tells the following amusing story: Once, when she was acting in "Moussine Sans Gene," a cat stole on the stage and rubbed itself against her. To introduce a realistic "touch," she picked it up and set it down a foot or two away, telling it to go to sleep. The cat curled up and went to sleep. But a murmuring in the audience drew Ellen Terry's attention to the animal again. The cat was sleeping peacefully on a red hot "fire."

These are the days when we laugh at the ice man and the coal man laughs at us.

The things you don't do may make you rich, but they seldom get you into trouble.

Sometimes, though, an optimist is one who has been stung and doesn't want other people to know about it.

The fellow who doesn't claim to be good and yet is not really bad is entitled to some distinction. He is so very few.

Some doctors, we suspect, are in a class by themselves. They are able to charge for what they don't know and collect in full.

Incidentally we might remark that there are two kinds of fools—those who think they are wise men, and those who don't know they are fools.

Sad Mistake.

The family was away from town. Their house was in charge of a young maid. Occasionally an old woman came in to help with the cleaning. One day the maid opened the front door and was greeted by the angry woman. "I've been ringing and ringing and ringing," said the latter. "Why didn't you come?" "You kept on so regular," said the maid. "I thought it was only the telephone."

Should Not Walk Too Soon.

A flat foot—that is, a foot almost without any instep—is not only a deformity, but it engenders an awkward walk. Sometimes, also, the foot leans more to the outer side or more to the inner side. Both these defects are generally caused by trying to make children walk too soon. Children should not be encouraged to walk until the bones of their little feet are strong enough to support the weight of their body.

Commissioner's Sale.

Pursuant to judgment, Garrard Circuit Court, November term, 1921, in the case of C. P. Currens, et als Plfs. vs. M. H. Johnson, et als Defts., I will on FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30th., 1921, at 2:30 P. ### Making Cement Waterproof.

To make cement waterproof try mixing 10 per cent of heavy oil with the first coat of the cement plaster.

Beladonna.

Beladonna is Italian for "fair lady," and the drug was given this name because Italian women employed the juice for staining their skin and to beautify the eyes by giving them a glistening appearance.

The Fourth Dimension.

The fourth dimension is merely a mathematical speculation. It is assumed to be the property of matter that should be to solids as solids are to planes. Mathematical investigations are made on the assumption of an indefinite number of dimensions.

Necessary Governmental Power.

When respect for law is not voluntary it must be compulsory, else government fall of its purpose. This statement involves no policy, rather reflects necessity. That's why government is given power to protect itself, and employs that power when compelled.

That Simple Every-Day Life.

There is not a thought or a feeling, not an act of beauty or nobility, whereof one is capable, but can find complete expression in the simplest, most ordinary life; and all that cannot be expressed therein must of necessity belong to the falsehoods of vanity, ignorance or sloth.

Nutrition in Fruits.

Fruits are chiefly valuable for their sugar, acids and salts. Bananas, dates, figs, prunes and grapes, owing to their large amount of sugar, are the most nutritious. Apples, lemons and oranges are valuable for their potash salts, and oranges and lemons, especially, are valuable for their citric acids. Some fruits contain two or more acids, such as strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries and cherries. These fruits contain both citric and malic acids.

American Legion News

"If General Robert E. Lee was a traitor, Napoleon Bonaparte was a coward."

The statement was made by an admirer of both the great military leaders, Ferdinand Foch of France, while he was visiting Harrison, Va., according to "a man who heard it," who has written national headquarters of the American Legion.

During a ceremony the marshal was handed a telegram. "Lee is the greatest traitor America ever has known," it read, signed by "An American Patriot." Foch read the telegram, smiled, and showing it to his aids said: "If General Lee was a traitor, I wish France had more of them. He was one of the greatest military leaders the world has ever known. This surely is a joke." The generalissimo kept the telegram, however.

If President Harding grants a pardon to ex-Private Thomas G. Jones of the A. E. E. Harry Haley, Canadian who served Jones' sentence for army desertion in Leavenworth prison, will deliver the pardon to his buddy "in the wilds of Canada," according to R. P. Dickerson, Springfield, Mo., Haley's benefactor, who has enlisted the aid of the American Legion to obtain executive clemency. Jones is hiding out in Canada, Dickerson has informed the Legion, but Haley will take him to his little family to a "small Canadian town" to his aged mother if the president grants the pardon.

Charges of negligence in the treatment of mentally deranged veterans of the world war are to be investigated soon by the United States Senate, General George A. Wingate has informed the American Legion of New York City.

Critically ill in a New York hospital because of overwork while he was director of the bureau of war risk insurance, R. G. Cholmeley Jones has received from the American Legion through Hanford MacNider, its commander, "sincere wishes for your speedy recovery from disability brought on by service to your country and your comrades." Mr. Jones was twice rejected for the army because of physical disability, but served overseas as chief of the war risk bureau.

A lasting tie between the American mothers whose sons were killed in France and the gold star mothers of England has been established with the entrance into the American Auxiliary of Mrs. Amelia McCudden, Britain's official gold star mother. Mrs. McCudden was sent to America to represent the English war mothers at Arlington and joined the Legion women's auxiliary before she sailed back for England.

After having thoroughly investigated Polyclinic government hospital, in the heart of New York City, and found it "not conducive to the convalescence of tubercular war veterans," the American Legion of New York has announced its intention of buying a hospital site in the Adirondack Mountains where the ex-service patients may be treated properly. The sanitarium will be supported by private individuals who have already pledged themselves.

One blissfully trustful former service man has written the American Legion Weekly asking that the publication "be sent to my new address, Esplanade St., New Orleans. Thank you for same. (signed) ex-soldier." There were only 4,000,000 ex-soldiers at the last count.

No reinstatements of government insurance can be made after Dec. 31st., according to word received at national headquarters of the American Legion. All the ex-service men can reinstate their government insurance except those who have a disability not traceable to service. The yearly renewable term insurance may be reinstated by the payment of two monthly premiums. The applicant must state that he is in good health and provide a report of full medical examination substantiating that statement.

President Obregon of Mexico is considering two invitations to visit Texas this month. One is from the American Legion post at San Antonio, and the other from Governor Patrick Neff of Texas. The President was asked to attend the festivities in Houston and San Antonio in connection with the visit to those cities of Marshal Foch.

Resolutions.

At a convention of the Hurley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association of Garrard County, on Saturday, Dec. 10th., 1921, a Committee of three was appointed to draft suitable resolutions of thanks to Judge L. L. Walker in appreciation of his efforts in behalf of the Hurley Tobacco Growers Association.

The Committee submits the following resolutions:

Be it Resolved: That we most deeply appreciate the able manner in which our County Chairman, Judge L. L. Walker, conducted the campaign in putting Garrard County "Over the Top" in the drive of the Hurley Tobacco Growers' Association, and wish hereby to express to him our sincere thanks for so unselfishly devoting his time and energy in our behalf, without any remuneration, whatever, and trust that the added esteem and confidence of the citizens of this county, may in some small way compensate him for this great work.

It is further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Judge L. L. Walker and also published in the Central Record.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions on the death of Miss Amanda Anderson, who was a member of John E. Stormes' Sunday School class, also their president are offered:

Whereas:—It has pleased the Almighty in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst, our much loved and honored president and classmate.

Be it resolved, that in the passing away of this dear little woman, her class will greatly miss the influence brought about by this little flower, for such she was, has left this earth to be transplanted in Heaven, to mingle with the dear ones of her own family, who so recently have preceded her.

Be it further resolved:—That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her family.

Miss Bettie West
Mrs. Albert Ware, Officers.

Resolutions.

Dec. 12, 1921.

Whereas, God, in His infinite wisdom, has taken from our midst a beloved and faithful Christian teacher, Miss Amanda Anderson.

Be it resolved: That, in the death of Miss Amanda Anderson, her loved ones have lost a devoted sister, her community has lost a kindly neighbor and this school, in which she spent the best of her years of her life, an earnest Christian teacher.

That we extend to members of her family our sincere sympathy in the loss they have sustained.

That the Board of Trustees and the faculty of this school extend our love and sympathy and any assistance that we may render.

That, in the name of this community, we ask His divine blessing upon these splendid, tireless efforts for education and humanity and that He may make her work as teacher and as citizen a power for good and righteousness throughout all time.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent her family and another copy be spread upon the records of the Board of Trustees.

Hog Raisers.

It pays to use Moorman's Mineral Mixture for hogs. We have maintained its high quality but now selling it at a lower price than we did way back before the war in 1911.

You can get 500 lb. at 6 cents per pound; 1,000 lb. lots at 5 1/2 cents per pound. This is the Moorman's Mineral Mixture for hogs that the farmers of Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln and Mercer counties ordered through Mr. A. M. Elder for many years before he was promoted by the Moorman Manufacturing Co. Please be certain to look for name Moorman on the order you are asked to sign.

We have more than three hundred customers for me to look after. If you need Moorman's before I see you call DEXTER BALLOU, Stanford, Ky., Representative for Moorman Manufacturing Co. 12-8-2t pd.

A Letter To Santa.

"Dear Santa: Please come to Lancaster. The heat's place on earth: You see Mr. Santa, I know, 'Cause I've lived here since my birth.

"The little boys and girls here, Are talking every day, And telling what they want you to bring.

If you will come this way, "Now Santa, just before you start, Would you please look and see If you have a sleeping doll And story-book for me.

"The children here are very good, Please don't forget to come And fill your sleigh clean to the top: Before you start from home.

"You will find my stockings Hanging from the mantle top, And please dear Santa, don't forget To fill up grandpa's sock.

"Cause grandpa sleeps in mother's room, Near to the parlor door, And leaves his socks right by his bed Lying on the hard-wood floor.

"So I thank you Santa, for the things That you have brought before, For I know you have been to Lancaster, And I want you to come some more." (E. S. R.)

Gymnasium

Needed In L. H. S.

We read with a great deal of pleasure in our exchanges the Basket Ball Schedule of practically every town around us, and still one of the best schools in the State is omitted from the list simply because we have no gymnasium for the purpose of playing this good wholesome mid winter game. The Lancaster High School Building is highly complimented by all travelers and we feel proud of this wonderful institution as it would be a credit to a city many times larger than Lancaster.

The Record believes in schools and also athletics as a side line, now cannot we construct some kind of a building in which we may be able to have a good basket ball team the same as a good foot ball team?

To The Buying Public.

There will appear, commencing with the next issue of the Central Record, some little editorials from the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Lancaster and Garrard County, giving salient reasons why our people should do more of their purchasing and trading in Lancaster instead of Danville, Lexington and Louisville.

We will not have any catch penny scheme or offer any prize or slogan why Lancaster is the proper place for you to trade, but will advance a few reasons which we believe will convince you of your duty to your home merchant through your sense of fairness and justice.

It's easy to tell a lie, but sometimes it is mighty hard for a fellow to square himself by telling another.
